Jim's Thoughts

Saints vs Colts for the Super Bowl. Should be a great game, but I was pulling for Favre to get there. I mean really, he's 40 years old and taking all those shots from the younger guys. Makes me actually feel a little younger having him out there!

Haiti—Our hearts and prayers go out to all the people who have been affected by the devastating earthquake in Haiti. I am so encouraged by the outpouring of support of the American people. I hope that it will help make a difference quickly! We have a recap on our Haiti fundraised dinner on page 2.

As most of you probably don't know, I was a Peace Corps Volunteer in Nepal back in the late 70's. I had 2+ years of on the ground experience in a less developed country. Although I never experienced the devastation Haiti is going through, that experience gives me tremendous appreciation for how much help is needed in Haiti and how difficult it is to deliver it.

OK, back to Juniper's—Sam Miller, (our Food and Beverage Manger) and I just had a conversation about doing some fun things to give our guests a different type of experience at Juniper's. As you know, Chef Casey Graham (formally of the Stepping Stone's Café) joined us back in December. He had conducted a number of cooking classes at the Café and we are looking into continuing that tradition here at Juniper's. We are looking for your ideas on what you'd like to learn from Casey, Will or Chuck. You can either call or email us to let us know or you can write it down on your comment card next time you join us for dinner. We are also working on hosting some wine seminars/tastings and having some wine and beer paired dinners. Should be both fun and informative.

Family Update—Granddaughter Clara is doing well. Just after Christmas we got the good news that her cancer was in fact Stage 1 and not Stage 2 as previously thought. She finished chemo mid-January and is running a round like nothing ever happened. She doesn't even realize she has one less kidney!!!

She's a cutie!!!!

Thank you for Helping Haiti!

Dear Friends,

I want to thank those who came out to our fundraiser dinner in support of the relief efforts to Haiti. Our sales were $1192.24 so our donation of 35% came to $417.29. In addition, we received cash contributions of $20 bring the total to $437.29. We rounded it up to $450 and cut a check for that amount to Partners In Health.

If you did not have the opportunity to make it to Juniper's on that night, but would still like to make your own private donation I encourage you to do so by visiting "Partners In Health" website at www.PIH.com.

Our prayers are with all those impacted by the earthquake in Haiti.

Sincerely,

Jim & Mary O'Reilly
